

Oct 30, 1986

LUCILE KITSON SCHUCK LONGVIEW will set today's issue from the perspective of a third generation survivor.

In the generation of her youth, approximately the first thirty years of her life, as Lucile Kitson, she acquired academic credentials and awards which she says have little relevance to the person she now sees herself to be or to the topic today.

During her midlife generation as Lucile Kitson Schuck she was wife and mother of three. Both Categories she claims do have ~~significant~~ relevance for today's topic.

Now, somewhere near the middle of the third generation as Lucile Schuck Longview she sees herself as a big-picture feminist/hammering away at the walls of patriarchal consciousness. On different occasions she has titled herself

Outsider by intention

Change Agent without portfolio

It is this third generation woman, with a sense-of-self that is ever changing --still becoming--- that most of us in the TOPs program have known.

Add any personal items ---or stop there.

International Women's Decade 1975-1985

Initiator of Resolutions 1977
( On roots of Sexism and on ageism)
White House Conference on Aging--1981

Gray Panthers

Older Women's League

Name change ---to Longview.

135